

Delivery of Alcohol

Delivery of alcohol to individual students or student groups at Barnard is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to, the commercial delivery of alcohol to College residence halls, the delivery of alcohol to any student campus mail address, or to any College recognized organization, except for social events that have been properly registered with specific permission for the delivery of alcohol.

Students found responsible for violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Policy effective as of September 2011
